

Bloodstained Men group protest child circumcision

By Charlene Cooper | cocooper@virginiafirst.com

(<https://web.archive.org/web/20160612051735/mailto:cocooper@virginiafirst.com>)

Published 05/08 2016 10:56PM Updated 05/08 2016 10:56PM ROANOKE, Va.

A group called Bloodstained Men is traveling around the country to protest against child circumcision. Organizers call the procedure a violation of human rights and hope to start a dialogue about the subject. They have more than 60 protests scheduled across the country this year, including a protest set to take place at the White House.