

Protest breaks out on Rt. 1 leading up to Gillette Stadium

A rather odd protest has apparently broken out on Route 1 in Foxboro near Gillette Stadium.

Protesters can be seen walking along the side of the street wearing pretty graphic costumes while holding anti-circumcision signs in the air.

Seriously.

Obviously that road is a great way to get your message across to a large amount of people as Gillette is just down the way.

About 67,000 people will be driving past on their way to the AFC Championship game between the Patriots and Steelers which kicks off at 6:40 p.m. EST.

And Pittsburgh thought that a fake fire alarm was a weird way to start the day.
