

Bloodstained Men and their Friends Make Visit to Toms River

By Shore News Aggregator - July 26, 2018

TOMS RIVER-The Bloodstained Men and their friends hung low in Toms River this past week. The group travels the country protesting the act of male circumcision.

“Circumcision is more than a scar or a memory. It’s a bloody wound that lives in our flesh,” the group says. “The physicians who inflicted Genital Surgery on our nation’s sons are ignorant of history, ethics, psychology, sociology, anthropology, religion, and physiology, among so many others areas of human knowledge they never read or study in their lives.”
